

JANUARY

Book Reports

Our 1st book report will be given out on Tuesday Jan. 10th and will be due back to school on Tuesday January 31st. The book report document is on the homework blog if you need an extra copy.

Wonderings – Where your child will write 2 questions that they have before reading the book.

Raz Kids & Reading Levels

Back in October/November the students were tested to determine their reading level (to see if they are reading at their appropriate grade & skill level). These reading levels will increase as the year goes on. Raz-Kids is an online library that is custom to your child's reading level. They were given their usernames and passcodes and they are in their daily planners. You can use www.scholastic.com/bookwizard/ to help you select level appropriate books.

We follow guided reading or Fountas and Pinnell reading levels.

Reading Logs

The Students were given their first reading log on Monday (1/9). They are to read for a minimum of 5 minutes daily. They are to write a one sentence summary of what they have read for that night. They can read from Raz-Kids, regular books, or if/when you read with your child.

They are due back the following Monday.

Aspiring Authors!

This Friday we will begin our journey to writing our first book.

The topic will be on Animals & Habitats. The students are excited. The books will be printed in hardcover and will cost $20.00 More details to follow soon!
